Dear Jean-Luis,

I am sorry I did not get the opportunity to finally say farewell to you at the end of your short visit to the U.K. From our general conversation I formed the impression that you were very satisfied with the outcome. I believe you also found considerable value from the informal discussions that took place during your visit.

Mr. Bruell has indicated to me that now you are fully aware of the background to the various Group research funded activities you are agreeable to accepting the full Canadian contribution of £570,000. I understand from our Accounts Department that you have already been debited for the £60,000 due for the SRG funding.

I would be grateful to have confirmation in order that our Accounts Department can debit ITL accordingly.

With kind regards,
Yours sincerely,

A. L. Heard
