Dear Jim:

NEW Can you ascertain all the information available on CRISTH.

We are interested in producing a tipped cigarette with a mouthpiece somewhat similar to the combination present in True. A mouthpiece which might well suit our needs is the one described by David Goodfellow and Arthur Terry in patents U.S. 3,205,791 and Canadian 748,221. However, we feel we need more information than that contained in the patents before making a decision as to whether we should pursue further the question of making such mouthpieces. I had hoped to find an R and DE report on the subject, but a hunt through our library and Engineering Department has not located one.

It would, as a result, be most valuable if you could provide us with as much information as you can on the machinery and materials used, production rates achieved, and problem areas which were encountered. Hopefully this will not be too difficult to arrange.

With kindest regards,

Yours sincerely,

Vc
