Dear Mr. Felton,

TOBACCO SMOKING AND MORTALITY.

I am very sorry that I gave you the impression that your report was delayed. It certainly was not, but it was aimed at a yearly meeting of our Group Chairmen and there was no time to do anything for that particular meeting and so the subject was deferred for a year. Perhaps I should add that we ourselves were not at all clear that what we wanted would best be done by an actuary. In the end the job was done by a medical statistician who specialises in epidemiology. Certainly we have no hard feelings on this matter.

Yours sincerely,

S.J. GREEN
