Dear Mr. Anderson,

Following yesterday's discussion at Alperton, we now have pleasure in enclosing the Minutes of the meeting which Mr. L. L. Baumann prepared.

We believe that all the important points discussed have been covered by this report, but would welcome any further comments you may wish to make.

May I say how very pleased we all were that you and your colleagues from Southampton, London, Liverpool and Montreal were able to attend yesterday's meeting, which we feel has been long overdue. It was an excellent opportunity to exchange first hand information, and I hope it will be followed by more personal discussions of the many problems which are of mutual interest to our Companies.

As we wish to be kept fully informed about any ensuing correspondence you might have direct with our Research & Development laboratories at Alperton, perhaps you would arrange for copies of your letters to be sent to our London office. In the same way R & D Alperton
