Dear Richard:

RPG - VANCOUVER

We are looking forward to hosting the upcoming BAT Research Policy Group Conference next month, and are especially pleased that you will be joining us in Vancouver for this event. In order for you to put your plans in order, I will outline what our extra curricular agenda will entail.

As many of you will be arriving on Saturday afternoon (September 16), we are planning an optional casual evening away from the hotel.

Sunday afternoon (September 17) we are planning a city tour for anyone interested, to be followed later in the afternoon by a welcoming cocktail party and dinner. Jean-Louis Mercier, Vice Chairman of Inasco and Chairman and C.E.O. of Imperial Tobacco will be joining us for the Tuesday afternoon (September 19) program and will be hosting the evening to follow.

Following the morning working sessions on Wednesday (September 20), we meet at the Bayshore Marina for a relaxing afternoon of fishing. Casual evening events are planned for both Wednesday and Thursday. Casual attire is in order for all of our working sessions in the hotel, and tie and jacket required for 2-3 of our evening dinners. I would suggest sport clothing (jeans), sweater and windbreaker for our Wednesday afternoon boat trip.

In due course, you will be advised of the travel arrangements from the airport to the hotel.
