The reorganisation reflects the world tobacco industry's increasingly international nature and focus on exports. It emphasises the importance of international brands to BAT, while recognising that both local and regional brands continue to make a major contribution. BAT's key international brands are: Lucky Strike, Kent, Pall Mall, Viceroy, Hollywood, State Express 555, John Player Gold Leaf, Benson & Hedges and Silk Cut.

Although B.A.T Industries expects financial benefits to arise in due course, there are no restructuring charges because the reorganisation is not a cost reduction exercise.

Mr. Martin Broughton, Group Chief Executive at B.A.T Industries, said: "Now that tobacco is a growth business for BAT once again, our managers around the world are fully committed to the need for change. This more cohesive structure should enable us to achieve faster growth and take better advantage of the opportunities in tobacco. Together with the prospects in financial services, they offer shareholders a sound international spread of risk and reward."
